

Name: Dr. Katrice Crawford

Education: PhD In Criminal Justice - School of Public Service and Education - Capella University

Master of Science - Public Safety with a specialization in Criminal Justice - Capella University

Bachelor of Science - Criminal Justice with a minor in Psychology - University of Maryland Global Campus

Bio: As an active duty and retired military spouse for over 26 years Dr. Crawford has worked within diverse organizations all over the United States as well as overseas in Adana, Turkey. She has worked within the parameters of the Criminal Justice field to include working as a Correctional Officer within a Close custody male facility for the Georgia Department of Corrections and as a Mobile Security Supervisor for CVS chain stores in Maryland, Virginia, and the District of Columbia. Dr. Crawford has also had the pleasure of obtaining her certification as a Law Enforcement Officer from the Southern Regional Public Safety Institute and utilized it to work in the capacity of a Probation and Parole Officer within the Mississippi Department of Corrections - Community Corrections Division. Additionally, she has worked as a Classification Specialist for the Alabama Department of Corrections. Dr. Crawford currently works as an Intelligence Analyst for Office of the Inspector General within Alabama Department of Corrections.

Moreover, Dr. Crawford values her community and has previously volunteered for the Key Spouse Program for the Department of Defense which was very dear to her. Dr. Crawford continues to volunteer in various areas to include active participation in church organizations and is a Lead Teacher for Ignite Youth Ministry at Fresh Anointing House of Worship. Dr. Crawford is also the Founder of Changing Pathway of Justice-Involved Youth, Inc. A nonprofit which provides youth services for youth involved within the Juvenile Justice System.

Dr. Crawford is a member of the Psi Chi National Honor Society of Psychology and the Alpha Phi Sigma National Honor Society of Criminal Justice. Dr. Crawford's experiences coupled with her desire to teach those who too desire to work as Criminal Justice Practitioners has helped to influence her to seek and complete her PhD in Criminal Justice as a means to enrich herself as well as to develop key characteristics that can be used to assist those most affected within the Criminal Justice System.

Dr. Crawford aspires to one day work to aid justice-involved individuals in the reintegration back into the community via transitional housing efforts as well as employment services. Dr. Crawford's main concentration in research is focused on Rehabilitation and Transitional Housing, Understanding the Dynamics of Sentencing Disparity, Mass Incarceration, and the Potential Biases that may contribute to it within the Criminal Justice Process.

Specialization: Criminal Justice

Email: kcrawford@alasu.edu

